INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK BRIGHTENS SLIGHTLY

Trade Affairs in Monongahela Valley Taking on Added Life

SOME GLOOM APPARENT

Betterment Shows Best at Donora---Local Situation Practically Unchanged

The industrial outlook along the Monongahela valley is showing some signs of betterment. At Donora probably the improvement is most noticeable. There at the plants of the American Steel and Wire company and the Donora Steel company additional men are being put to work almost every day. By the end of the week it is believed that the first-named plant will be operating to within 85 per cent of its total capacity.

Inasmuch as the Donora mills are a part of the vast United States Steel corporation's system, the betterment there is significant indicating a general industrial improvement.

Directly in Charleroi there has been no general improvement felt. Conditions have been slow in the glass trade owing to the lack of building operations the country over.

At Monessen within the last two weeks the Pittsburg Steel company's plant has been put in operation nearly to its entire capacity. However other mills in the town are running only part time.

Subsequent to the rate decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, railroads show renewed industrial activity. Still there are numerous dead engines to be seen at practically every yard. Men are being hired every day by the Pennsylvania railroad, according to news that leaked out from Pittsburg. An announcement in a Pittsburg newspaper that this railroad is placing its clerical employes back on full time, instead of enforcing a furlough of four days each month is taken as an indication of returning prosperity and a change of policy on the part of the road.

One thing severely felt in the Monongahela valley is that of the part or entire suspension of several mines. Various causes contribute to this condition, among them being a lack of a sufficient coal shipping stage on the Ohio permitting coal to be shipped to southern markets.

CHICKEN THIEF IS VISITOR AT PARK

The chicken coop of "Tip" Wickerham at Eldora park was visited by a chicken thief the other night. Persons riding on the roller-coaster saw him enter the domain of the biddies and the alarm was immediately given. The bold marauder escaped through the thick bushes in a nearby field.

Will Hold Festival.

The Curtin Sunday school is making arrangements to hold a festival at Withrow school house on Thursday evening of this week. Buss service will be maintained between Charleroi and that point. Mrs. Isaac Sprowls is the chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Commission is Honored

Pennsylvania Canal Board Feted by New York Board at New York City

William A. Magee, chairman of the Ohio River and Lake Erie ship Canal commission, Secretary Lancaster and members A. S. McSwigan. James A. Chambers of Pittsburg and Tom P. Sloan of Charleroi were given a dinner at the Baltimore hotel in New York City Tuesday night by the New York canal commission. They have just returned from a 700 mile tour of inspection through New York state.

Business Manager John H. Dailey of the Pittsburg baseball club, was an honor guest at the dinner. After the festivities Tuesday night the entire party left for Boston to take part in the dedication of the Cape Cod Canal.

CONGRESSMAN AND OTHERS WILL SPEAK

Outing of Colored Men to be Characterized by Presence of Well Known Men

TEMPLE WILL ATTEND

Glass City lodge No. 4892 of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of Charleroi will hold their second annual outing and picnic at Eldora park Monday August 10. One of the principal speakers of the day will be Congressman H. W. Temple of Washington.

Lewis E. Morton, District Grand Master of Scranton, P. S. Blackwell, District Deputy Grand Master of Steelton and R. D. Flint District Grand Director of Pennsylvania will also address the gathering.

The committee in charge is preparing an interesting program for the day. There will be dancing from 8 to 11:30 o'clock and during the day there will be various amusements in addition to the speaking to take up the time of the picnicers.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS HOLD JOINT SESSION

The Washington county commissioners and engineer held a joint meeting with the county commisioners and engineer of Fayette county at West Brownsville Tuesday in regard to the new county bridge being built over the Monongahela river at Brownsville. The proposition of allowing gas, water, telephone and two electric light companies to lay lines across the bridge was taken up, and plans for the lighting of the bridge after it is accepted from the contractors were discussed.

INSTRUCTORS FOR INSTITUTE NAMED

Plans For Tri-District Meeting at Monongahela Near Completion---Teachers to Meet Next Year in Donora

Preparations are well under way for the second annual tri-district teachers' institute, which this year will be held in the First Presbyterian church at Monongahela from August 24 to 28 inclusive.

The following are among the instructors who have been engaged for the institute: Miss Rose M. Fetterolf, who has charge of drawings in the State Department of Public Instruction; Dr. Edwin E. Sparks, president of State college; S. C. Schmuker, of the West Chester Normal school; Miss Margaret T. Maguire, principal of George Washington public schools of Philadelphia and Dr. H. B. Davis, principal of Colfax school, Pittsburg. Mr. Davis was formerly principal of the California State normal school.

The tri-district teachers institute takes in the teachers of the three towns, Charleroi, Monongahela and Donora. Last year it was held in Charleroi and next year it will be held in Donora.

ALL OF EUROPE MAY BE IMMERSED IN WORST WAR OF ALL HISTORY

Austria's Brief Manifesto to Servia and Alliance of Powers Makes Situation Decidedly Precarious

The Austro-Hungarian government declared war Tuesday against Servia by a manifesto that is one of the briefest of history's momentous documents. Germany paved the way for this declaration by announcing her rejection of the British proposal to bring four powers together in conference for mediation. Germany explained to the public that her ally could not be expected to submit her acts to an European council as though she were one of the Balkan States.

This announcement preceded the declaration of war by only two hours, and gave an exhibition of the perfectly harmonious working of the partnership between the two nations which stood firmly together through the Bosnian crisis of 1909.

The center of interest has shifted to St. Petersburg, which holds the decision whether an European war, which probably would shift the balance of power, if not rearrange the entire map of Europe is to break out. Negotiations are afoot there.

There is no doubt in British minds that Austria has fully resolved to utilize the provocation afforded by the Sarayevo murder to wipe the slate of all accounts against Servia and served an ultimatum on her which was designed to have no result save war.

FAYETTE CITY IMPROVEMENTS CONTEMPLATED

At a meeting of the borough council of Fayette City it was decided to pave a portion of Connellsville avenue running up the hill from the business section of the town. In order to raise sufficient money to do the work a vote on a bond issue is proposed. The borough has $2,000 in improvement bonds outstanding at the present time and the new issue of bonds if approved by the voters of the borough will be made sufficient to liquidate the outstanding bonds. The proposed improvements have been needed for years but the borough has never been in shape to take the matter up until the present time.

CORONER'S JURY DECLARES SECORA COMMITTED SUICIDE

Coroner James Heffran made inquiries into the death of Charles Secora, killed at Fredericktown, and that of Pauline Katon killed at Monongahela. Both cases were carefully looked into and all the evidence examined. The jury decided in the former case that death was the result of the shock of a bullet wound inflicted with suicidal intent and that the man had shot himself while pursued by the police officers who were about to arrest him.

The verdict returned by the jury regarding the death of the Katon child was that she died from injuries received when she was struck by a passenger train on July 24 at Monongahela and that the fatality was entirely accidental on the part of the train officials. The jury suggested that a passage over the tracks be provided.

PRACTICE IS HELD FOR WATER BATTLE

Members of the Charleroi volunteer fire department held a short practice Tuesday evening near the brewery on McKean avenue to prepare for the water battle to take place between the fire departments of Charleroi and North Charleroi as one of the principal events of the Charleroi-Bentleyville-Ellsworth day.

Guild Holds Good Meeting

Farewell to Missionary Worker is One Feature of Church Gathering

The Westminister Guild of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church held its monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Misses Emma and Bernice Clutter on Meadow avenue. Miss Elizabeth Elliott, president of the guild was the presiding officer. For study, the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Judson, misionaries to Burma, were discussed. The discussion was led by Miss Genevieve Nutt assisted by Misses Jean Whitehead and Marguite Whitlatch. A duet was rendered by Miss Emma Clutter and Miss Mamie Rockwell, with the accompaniment being played by Miss Bethel Bowman. A touching farewell service in honor of Miss Bernice Clutter, who will soon return to her mission field in North Carolina, was conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. John R. Burson. A social hour followed and refreshments were served.

DONORA TRIO ARE ARRESTED FOR THIEVING

Chickens and Clothing Object of Their Desires According to Information

CASE IS SENSATIONAL

Earl Brooks, Steve Fisher and Jim Yeardly are in jail at Donora charged with robbing two clothing stores at that place. Their arrest for stealing clothing can be traced back to the fact that it is said they were careless in stealing chickens.

William Hill, a dealer in fish at Donora discovered Tuesday morning that six of his best chickens were missing and that there was a trail of blood leading from his chicken house where heads had been twisted from the chickens. He notified the police. The trail of blood lead to the home of one of the men. The three were arrested and given a hearing. The chickens could not be produced, so the men paid Hill for his chickens and paid the costs of the case.

The police suspected the trio in connection with the robbery recent of Miller's clothing store from which a quantity of clothing, gloves and hats were stolen, and the robbery of the Workingmens store from where 18 pairs of shoes were removed. Their homes were searched and it is said that much of the missing clothing was found.

The men will be given a hearing this afternoon. Brooks and Yeardly are married men while Fisher is single. They all work in the Donora mills. It is said that they have confessed to stealing 12 pairs of shoes.

"PREPARE FOR WAR," IS CRY AMONG AUSTRIANS

Men of United States Prepare for Call to Arms for Country

SERVIANS ARE FEW

Not Many of Race Here Likely to Participate in European Squabble

Practically every subject of Austro-Hungary in this county has been notified to be prepared to return to engage in the war between Austria and Servia if needed. There are large numbers of Austrians and Hungarians working in the coal plants and other industries throughout the county and may of them in the immediate vicinity of Charleroi. The number of Servians is not so great, but many of them are preparing to leave for their mother country in case of need to defend their flag.

In case the Austrians and Hungarians in this country are mobilized, the Austro-Hungarian government will defray all transportation expenses from the United States to their country. In event of the men in Washington county being mobilized each man of age and under the age of 42 who is a subject of that government will be summoned. Men of this nationality and between these ages constitute a large majority of the men employed around the coal mines throughout the Monongahela valley in this county.

Should these men be ordered to return to their country to take part in the war the move would probably have a damaging effect on industry. Many men of these nationalities are employed in the steel mills and such works and their working force would be greatly hamperd.

There are about 200,000 Austrians and Hungarians in the United States it is stated who would be available for military duty.

PAINT OR NOT PAINT SIGNS THE QUESTION

Whether to pay a man to paint a sign on a fence or whether to pay some other man to paint the sign out is now the problem facing many business men over the state who think talking their business by the fence-rail route is the best method. By order of the State Highway Department all signs along the state highways must disappear and many of them are going.

Representatives of the State Highway Department are expected to reach this section within a short time in their sign erasure campaign. It includes all the roads that have been taken over by the state by the recent acts of the legislature.

WAR.

Servia's refusal to recognize as just the demand of Austria to make Austrian officers judges as well as accusers against Servians in their charge of an anti-Austrian plot for the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince indicates a coming conflagration the like of which for seriousness is not known to history. Austria's declaration that the Servian reply to their demands is unsatisfactory is the only excuse afforded for the declaration of war that has followed.

Tentative alliances are now being formed among the powerful European powers that will tend to plunge the entire of Europe into the bloodiest and the most horrible conflict in its centuries of bloody history. This war will not be one of those old-fashioned religious disturbances with which Europe is so familiar. It will be simply a struggle for power. The map of Europe will undergo a remaking.

Austria has for years cherished the fond ambition for extension of power to the Aegean Sea, giving her a port there, and has manifested a desire to dissolve Turkey in Europe, if our histories are believable. The Balkan war by dividing the territory between Servia and Greece apparently defeated the Austrian plans and the assassination of the Austrian Crown Prince opened a way to conflict.

Germany, with its powerful armies and navies backs Austria. Italy is also a member of the Triple Alliance. Russia, France and England form the Triple Entente in opposition to the scheme of German expansion. Russia is strongly opposed to the Austrian extension in the direction of the Balkans. It is suggested that it is not improbable that the present crisis has arisen from the desire of Germany and Austria to fight out the question of territory now.

What can be the meaning of such a war as that which Europe apparently faces can only be surmised. It will be wastful and extravagant. Business will suffer the world over. Humanity will suffer still more and the ends of peace will gain nothing.

NO ABANDONED FARMS.

The story of abandoned farms in eastern states has led Prof. Edward Wallace, a member of the faculty of the State college of agriculture at Lafayette, Ind., to investigate the report in New York state. He discovered after several weeks spent in various sections of the state that none of the farms are abandoned, although he saw many houses empty where the land is very poor and unproductive, says the Youngstown Telegram.

"I saw land that is selling from ten to $175 per acre," said Prof. Wallace.

The same condition is said to exist in New England where the fine old farms which were worked out years ago have been taken over by foreigners who have rejuvenated the land to their great profit.

Sturdy New Englanders of the days gone by would plant crops in sour land year after year attributing their failures to an act of Providence. The new arrivals while quite God fearing have taken advantage of the discoveries of the state boards of agriculture, combining with it a knowledge of intensive farming brought from aboard. They are all doing well.

There are few American boys of old stock left on the New England farms. They have gone to cities, leaving the beautiful old farms with their fences of stone or cedar stumps bleached white like the interlocked horns of fallen stags, to the newcomers from foreign shores.

The pioneers of old contended with primal conditions the second invasion is of those who are battling with sour and worked-out lands. Their standard of living makes it possible for them to get along where the natives could not or would not but in in every case they pay something for the land. There are no abandoned farms which may be taken over by squatter sovereignty. Although many are on the market, they all cost money.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

In the August Woman's Home Companion William J. Crombie, writing an article entitled "What Every Girl Should Know," tells the right way to stand, sleep and walk. Following is his advice as to standing:

"In the correct standing position the chest is held high and thrown out strongly, the abdomen drawn in, the chin in toward the chest, with the body held erect and leaning slightly forward. The weight of the body is equally distributed upon both feet, either with one foot in advance of the other as in the military 'at rest' or with heels together, as in figure. In the military carriage the body is held further forward than in the ordinary walking posture. The cadet gets his erect posture, not so much by the physical exercise he takes as by constantly being reminded by his officers that he must hold his body erect.

"There are three ways to tell whether you the carrying, yourself properly. Stand with the back to a wall which has a smooth surface, with the head, shoulders, hips, and heels touching the wall; try to maintain this position at all times. Another way is to lie on the back, note the posture of the head, shoulders, chest and hips, arise and assume the same posture. Still another is to practice balancing a moderately heavy book on the head. Place a soft cushion on the head and the book on top, as this gives the book more surface upon which to rest and is more easily balanced.

"Keeping the chest high and the body erect is an excellent exercise and should be cultivated."

An interesting though unvouched for as to authenticity story is related in an exchange, of a Pennsylvania woman and her physician. The doctor performed an operation very successfully upon this woman, who was quite wealthy. When asked for his bill, the physician presented one for fifty dollars. The good lady smiled.

"Do you consider that as sufficient considering my circumstances?"

"That is my charge for the operation: your circumstances have nothing to do with it."

The lady drew a check for five hundred dollars and presented it to him. He handed it back saying: "I cannot accept this. My charge for that operation is fifty dollars." "Very well," the lady replied. "Keep the check, and put the balance to my credit."

Some months after she received a long, itemized bill, upon which were entered charges for treatment of various kinds, rendered to all sorts of humanity, male and female, black and white, who had been treated at her expense.

She was so delighted at it that she immediately placed another check for five hundred dollars at the doctor's disposal.

BOON TO THE SMALL BOY

Stepless Cars in New York Enable Him to Procure Numerous Free Rides.

No matter what else can be said in regard to the new stepless cars now in operation on Broadway, they are certainly a boon to the small boy who depends on riding free, says the New York Times.

The advent of the pay-as-you-enter car and the success of the idea of placing a tin guard over the rear bumper, thus frustrating the efforts of those bent on obtaining free rides by sitting on the bumper, have done much to obviate all chances of riding on surface cars without paying the necessary nickel. The small boy, as usual, suffered most from those inventions.

It goes without saying that it was not an intentional act on the part of the company providing means for the small boy to ride free.

The boy waits for a crowded car at a corner where he notices some one else waiting. When that person crowds into the car the boy follows, unknown to the conductor. The boy makes sure to hide himself behind the form of an adult. The conductor on his eyrie fails to notice the boy, and after the car has run on for a number of blocks the conductor cannot be positive the boy failed to deposit his nickel in the box.

AIR AFFECTED BY SOUND

Ventilation and Acoustics of Public Places Seem General Matter of Controversy.

The effect of ventilation on the acoustics of public halls has been a subject of investigation. Architects have found that currents or layers of air of different density interfere seriously with the passage of sound, but that a mass of moving air—if homogeneous—may have little influence. Theaters in front of the stage give especial trouble.

A book by C. Garnier mentions a new Paris theater in which air is admitted near the footlights, forming a kind of curtain between actors and spectators, and much interference results, the sound from the stage being weak, while that from the orchestra is intense.

In another theater with ventilation by heated air passed across the stage into the auditorium there was improvement in the acoustic qualities when the ventilating apparatus was working.

Another inquirer concludes that ventilation can have only slight influence in improving acoustics, that parallel layers of air may be particularly harmful, and that a single column of uniformly heated ascending air will affect sound very slightly.

By the Professor.

Professor Jones and Mrs. Jones were both of the type colloquially known as strawberry blonds. In accordance with the immemorial custom of professors' families on small salaries at this particular southern college, the Jones family grew apace. Mary, the first, was born, and her hair came perilously near to being cerise. The twins lost to Mary in respect of red hair by just a shade. Johnny, the next, bade fair at three months to make Mary seem a neutral color. Now, Mrs. Jones longed for just one black-haired one. When the learned professor of ology from the scientific department dropped in for supper, Mrs. Jones almost tearfully propounded to him a question.

"O, doctor," she asked, "do you think it must always be hereditary?"

The doctor looked from the aureoles of Professor and Mrs. Jones to the successive four alarms of fire-red hair on the little Joneses.

"Not so much that," he assured her at last, 'as redheditary.'"

Putting Them "In Right."

A Canadian who had been on a pleasure jaunt to New York tells of an incident of Gotham's amusement life. He went to the Carnegie lyceum. It's a big place with several different entertainments going on at the same time in various parts of the building. On this particular day they had moving pictures of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables" on the ground floor and an orchestra concert upstairs. Highbrow music-lovers, and patrons of the movies would have got all mixed up in looking for their respective places of entertainment, if it had not been for a big-voiced negro porter who stood at the stairs to announce in stentorian tones: "Dis way to de Symphony concert. Less Miserubble downstairs."

Hook and Eye.

The scene was a teachers' training college; the class one of girls; the lecturer on phonetics a gentleman with a nice taste in sarcasm. "This sound," he said, "has for symbol something even you can all remember—a dressmaker's hook; just the ordinary thing you are all familiar with." As he spoke, says the Manchester Guardian, he drew the symbol in chalk on the board, and the worried pupils all laughed. Even they—to borrow the professor's remark—knew that the "hook" depicted was an "eye."

Ozone Stimulates Yeast.

A new application of ozone has just been put into use by brewers. They have discovered that the fermenting power of yeast is greatly increased by subjecting it to the influence of ozone for five minutes. The power develops only after about two days. Ozone has an inhibitive action upon objectionable organisms.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR IMPROVING ROAD

Deemston Borough Plans Re-Construction---Beallsville People Active---Colorado People Are Visitors

At a meeting of the Deemston borough council held Saturday evening the contract for the completion of a piece of road, known as the L. E. Buckingham and Fredericktown road as let to J. Forsythe a Finleyville contractor, whose bid was $2,349.60. There were several other bids. To complete the road will require about 1,656 feet of telford foundation over 10,000 feet of limestone of different grades. The borough expects to furnish the machinery such as sprinklers, road rollers, and crushers. When this road is completed a road which has needed improvement for some time will have been repaired. Deemston borough has many good roads within its limits and believes in good road building. Much work has been done the past few months in road work in the borough and many improvements made.

Visitors From Colorado.

Prof. Charles Horn, dean of Westminister college, Denver, Colorado, and son, John, who had been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Newton Horn, of near Washington, are spending a few days at Beallsville, visiting at the home of the former's brother Clarence H. Horn of Main street. Sunday evening Prof. Horn had the pleasure of listening to a sermon preached at the M. E. church by the pastor, the Rev. John W. Entertains Band.

Saturday evening at his home in West Pike Run township, Wilbur A. Deems entertained a few members of the old Clover Hill band, in a right royal manner. But three members of the old band, of which he was a member were present Crawford H. West, Ellsworth Deems and Henry Allman. The time was pleasantly past in recalling events in which the band participated over a score of years ago, and in "tuning up" for the coming reunion of the Thompson school, August 15. There were also visitors present. Refreshments were served in abundance by Mr. Deems. It was decided to hold another meeting Friday evening at the home of Crawford H. West, Clover Hill, when further arrangements will be made. It is requested that all members of the old band, who can possibly do so, be present.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Charleroi Readers Can No Longer Doubt the Evidence

This Charleroi citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed.

Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit.

Mrs. Robert Coulter, 520 Third St., Charleroi, Pa., says: "One of the family had the measles when he was five years old, which left him with weak kidneys. The trouble was most distressing at night and there seemed to be an inability to control the kidney secretions. I had often mended and I was induced to get a supply at Piper's Pharmacy. The one who used this remedy was soon benefited and we have hopes of a permanent cure."

Her Hopes Realized.

On January 30 1911, Mrs. Coulter said: "I willingly confirm the statement I gave praising Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago. Doan's Kidney Pills made a complete cure for one of our family."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Coulter recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

JOKE ON JOKERS IN THE SNIPE HUNTING GAME

The revival of the ancient game commonly known to posterity and Charleroi history as "snipe hunting" resulted Tuesday night in the joke being turned on the jokers. Today some of the alleged ringleaders in the affair are gathering a list of names to be presented to Burgess S. L. Woodward. The secret is that Burgess Woodward, Constable F. W. Jones of Charleroi and Constable Louis Coven of North Charleroi "butted in" on the pleasing little play and disrupted the organization.

Elaborately embellished to suit the occasion the game was arranged whereby a stranger to Charleroi was to be taken out Maple Creek to visit a certain home. Of course there was to be shooting, but he didn't know that. Fully 50 young men were concerned. It so happened that the same kind of stunt had been accomplished within the last few days to the annoyance of Maple Creek folk who had complained. The police thus learned of the Tuesday night plans and planned a coup all their own.

When the fun was just reaching its climax and the stranger was getting scared by the rapid shooting of a revolver altogether too close for comfort, Constable Jones and the two others in his automobile drove into the midst of the crowd of jokers. Then there was real running. All but a half dozen made themselves immediately conspicuous by their absence.

The game was broken up elegantly. What action may follow may be only surmised. Efforts have been made by the police before to break up the "snipe hunting" game, and offenders before this have been punished.

RAILROAD MEN WILL TESTIFY THE QUESTION

Two Brownsville men G. B. Obey and D. K. Orr have gone to testify before the West Virginia public service commission on the charge of endeavoring to monopolize the small operators by the Buckhannon & Northern railroad.

The point on controversy seems to be that the Buckhannon & Northern railroad refused to place a siding at Lowesville for the use of the Lehigh Coal company. The brunt of the testimony will rest with the operators of the district and will hinge on a conference alleged to have been held by Colonel Schoonmaker, president of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad and Vice President Schriver of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

RAILROAD WATCHMAN LOSES ALL SAVINGS IN PECULIAR MANNER

Mike Kohut, watchman at the Main street crossing of the Monongahela and Ellsworth Railroad had the misfortune to lose his money while on a visit to Charleroi. Mr. Kohut had been visiting friends in the Magic City and had his money amounting to $590 tied up in a handkerchief. He does not know whether in some manner he pulled the handkerchief out of his pocket or whether it was taken by some thief. This is a hard blow to Kohut who is a cripple and it represented his life savings, with which he intended in the near future to purchase a small house for himself and family.

SPRAY NOZZLES FOR FIRE HOSE ARE GIVED TEST

A cellar nozzle and an improved cutoff nozzle were given a tryout by the local fire department at their regular weekly drill Tuesday night. Fire Chief Fleming will ask the borough council to purchase new nozzles patterned after the one tested.

The cellar nozzle works the same way as a fountain lawn spray, revolving and throwing the water in all directions. A hole can be cut in a floor or roof and the nozzle placed so that the water will reach every point in the room or cellar.

Fire Chief Fleming is planning regular weekly drills, coupling, uncoupling hose and the handling of the hose. At the last drill they were given a drill with the hook and ladder truck. Chief Fleming expects to give a drill with a big ladder next week.
